

First Fruits Matrimony - FAQs

1. What is the vision of First Fruits Matrimony?

The Vision of First Fruits is to be a platform in making matches for First Generation believers and for those who are willing to marry First Generation believers, thereby building up Godly families in establishing the kingdom of God on earth as it is in Heaven.

2. Who is a First-generation believer?

First generation believer translates to Mudhal Thalaimurai Christhavar in Tamil i.e., he/she has accepted Christ from other faith and not from a family of Christians. In some families, a first-generation believer might be the only person to have accepted Christ in the family, or there could be a sibling or immediate family members who could also have accepted Christ.

3. Who is a born-again believer?

Born again believer is one who has repented for their sins and accepted Jesus Christ as their personal saviour and has a personal walk with God living a life according to the Bible standard in truth and spirit.

4. Who is eligible to register his/her profile in First Fruits Matrimony?

The person should either be a first-generation believer or a generational Christian who is willing to marry a first-generation believer. First Fruits strongly recommend generational Christians to look for first generation matches breaking barriers to caste, status etc., thereby building Godly families and raising Godly generations in preparation for eternity.

5. Why Caste based matching is supported in First Fruits Matrimony?

First fruits matrimony is operating with the sole burden to help first generation believers. In many instances, the family members of a first-generation believer, who have not accepted Christ would comply with a Christian marriage, if the bride/groom is from the same community This is the reason why First Fruits Matrimony is supporting caste-based matching. It is also our sincere prayer that inter-caste marriages should happen through First Fruits, and the caste barrier should be broken in Christendom.
